

Das Kummel

august 1982

August has been a quiet month for us, so far. Everyone has slowed down a bit after rip-roaring July. We didn't have enough material for a regular edition of Das Kummel, but we did have a few important items to share.

First, the dinner at the Red Lobster on Independence Boulevard in Virginia Beach is still on for August 22 starting at 7:00 p.m. The Red Lobster is a nice family restaurant with moderate prices and good food. Red Lobster, by the way, sponsors the Red Lobster BMW M-1 racer, a nice, moderately priced family car. Call Becky or Jeff Barnett by Saturday at 340-9043 for reservations. We need to have a ball park figure to give Red Lobster.

Sunday, August 29th we will have the September members meeting at 134 South Palm Avenue at 8:00 p.m. Palm Avenue is two streets West of Thalia Road off Bonney Road. Call Jeff Barnett at 340-9043 for further directions. Bring pencil and paper to take notes. No paper airplanes, please.

The meeting at Nags Head has been postponed until next year due to the hosts' uncertain work schedules. Try to have a nice memorial day weekend anyway.

Nathan and Debbie Segal are hosting the September Tech on the 19th. As Always, the tech starts at 12:00 noon. There will be beverages and and munchies and the fee is three bucks. 3940 Wilmington, Va. Beach. Tel. 467-9777.

Speaking of Debbie Segal, next month Debbie will be taking over newsletter production until Spring of 1983. Becky Barnett is starting the last leg of four years of higher education and for some reason is expecting a heavy work load at school. Scheese! Debbie has been helping with the newsletter all summer, so the transfusion will be smooth. New blood always helps. The newsletter is not out of danger altogether, though. Debbie will be giving it up in early Spring. We will be screening applicants all Winter for a more permanent replacement. We are looking for someone who can type and who would enjoy the responsibility, challenge and creative drain that the newsletter provides. The job doesn't necessarily call for just one person; it is a good husband-wife project. Contact Charles Dickens at 488-0030 or Debbie Segal at 467-9777 for the low down.

Jeff Barnett will continue handling the Editorial duties and the membership lists. If you have an article to submit, an ad to publish, or questions about the the newsletter in general (like, "Why haven't I gotten my newsletter, Turkey!") continue to call Jeff at 340-9043.

Since we mentioned it, if you are not getting your newsletter regularly, there are several possible reasons. 1) Your membership has expired and your name is no longer on the list we get from National. We try not to dump you instantly, but we have to pay for your postage and printing if you don't. 2) The newsletter has not been published every month. Occasionally we have skipped a month or combined two months. 3) Your address has changed and either we didn't get a notification of it and/or National didn't. If you give us a change of address but didn't give one to National, we will change it here, but when we get an updated list from National, we check ours by National's list. If it is different from the address we have, we assume it has been changed again. It's really tough.

You will be getting a regular newsletter in a few weeks, when we all get back on schedule. If you have any problems, complaints, or compliments, give us a call; we'd love to hear from you.

The Staff,

Becky Barnett
Debbie Segal
Jeff Barnett
